

How to get your networking group positively SIZZLING... ...by solving 3 KEY problems for you...

Firstly, what is the networking university?

The "Networking University" is an online training resource CRAMMED with training material to make your members better networkers.

Containing easy to use video, the networking university has been compiled using networking experts from around the world. It features training on all aspects of networking including...

- What IS business networking
- If your business card is your only marketing tool
- How to SELL more through networking by speaking less

First problem solved = How to make money

It's a fact of networking life that the most you can ever charge for a networking event is around £10/€15/$15.

If the draw of your event is that people will have a meal - say breakfast and get a chance to "meet like minded people" then simple economics means the cost of the meal (and possibly room hire) will eat into your profits.

Becoming a partner with us and the networking university will mean you can sell something which makes you money but COSTS YOU NOTHING.

Second problem solved = Free yourself from all the day-to-day admin

DON'T be the goto person.

Because your group is so successful, you have probably made yourself an unpaid job for life.

New members always have questions - and repeating yourself over and over and over again can soon become pretty exhausting...

Putting all that information online means you can free yourself to concentrate on doing what you do best - making sure the event goes smoothly. The networking university starts at the very basics and walks the most nervous newcomer through what is required to do well.

Third problem solved = Help your members be more successful

There is a phrase which says "There are no bad networks, only bad networkers" and that's true.

People choose a networking group for just one (well maybe two) reasons - to meet interesting people and to get more business.

The networking university offers people a chance to learn how to do both. More happy and profitable members means they are more likely to renew their membership - which means more money for you.

Don't just take my word for it...

Over the two years I've known Jonathan I've discovered I share many of his outlooks on life and business. I know he has built a team with similar values and I am proud to recommend the networking university for anyone who wants to ethically and strategically build their business."
